

Dalton Springs Campground

This campground is beautiful and well developed. It is used by campers from within the area and visitors.

Once we could roam and enjoy this place. Those who live here take good care of these places. Now we are regulated by people from the east who have to pay for a picnic; how are we regulated by and for the people? We are the people!

This Forest Service campground provides a place for locals as well as tourists to camp. The $7.00 fee is prohibitive for the poor. The Forest Service takes prime locations, develops them, then prices them off limits for many poor.
